Unimas leads World Quran Hour 2016 in Sarawak

KOTA SAMARAHAN: Universiti Malaysia Sarawak (Unimas) will be the first in Borneo to host this year's 'World Quran Hour'.

The programme, observed simultaneously at 117 major cities around the world, will take place at the campus' Tun Abang Sallahuddin Islamic Centre (Pitas) here this Sept 11, scheduled to commence at 8am.

"The programme is an hour for Muslims around the world to come as one in reciting, reflecting on and understanding the beautiful message of peace in the Holy Quran this Sunday on 9 Zulhijjah (Sept 11) - the eve of Hari Raya Aidiladha which is the most blissful time, when haj pilgrim in Mecca are undergoing the 'wukuf' (convergence on Arafah)," said a Unimas spokesperson.

Member of the public are invited to Unimas for this event.
