Preface

Welcome Remarks

Assalamualaikum Warahmatullahi Wabarakatuh and Greetings to all,

Sincere appreciation and congratulations to the members involved in the UNIMAS Pilot Grant (UNI/F09/PILOT/85837/2023), the staff of the Research, Innovation and Enterprise Centre (RIEC), Faculty of Education, Languages and Communication (FELC) and the Tun Abang Salahuddin Islamic Centre (PITAS), Universiti Malaysia Sarawak (UNIMAS) who gave their full support in the publication of this e-book.

In the opening of the 'Da'wah Writing Workshop: From Idea to Publication' which was officiated by Professor Dr Ambigapathy Pandian, former Dean of FELC on 8 December 2023, the goal was to build an environment that encourages writing. In addition, this project also aims to build a community of writers.

In this regard, the 'Da'wah Writing Workshop: From Idea to Publication' is in line with this goal.

Hopefully, the publication of this e-book can further boost e-book writing, increase interest in writing among young people, and subsequently make UNIMAS a public institute of higher learning that forms and produces graduates who are excellent and knowledgeable in culture.

Dr Siti Aishah Chu Abdullah Project Coordinator

About Author

Farhanah binti Hassan is currently pursuing a Bachelor's degree in Islamic Education at Universiti Malaysia Sarawak (UNIMAS). She has a passion for creating simple and minimalist designs, believing that elegance often lies in simplicity. Her book, 'Echoes of Faith: A Wisdom for Inner Peace,' was inspired by her desire to share reflections on tranquility and spiritual insight. Through her writing, Farhanah aims to guide readers on a journey toward inner calm and understanding, drawing on her own studies and experiences in Islamic wisdom.
