Indonesian man arrested for holding hostage

SAMARAHAN: An Indonesian man was arrested after a student was held hostage near a university on Tuesday evening.

State CID chief SAC Zulkifli Hassan, who confirmed the case when met by reporters, said the suspect, 30, from Lempur Danau, Jambi Indonesia received a call from someone in his hometown.

After speaking on the phone, the suspect approached a female student Wan Norhayati Wan Mahmud, 22 and told her that he was not going to hurt her and asked her to call the police.

The student then contacted the police and a police team was dispatched to the scene.

The suspect was then arrested and the student was sent to a clinic nearby despite not sustaining any injuries from the incident.

Zulkifli said the suspect had been held and the case would be investigated under Section 506 of the Penal Code for criminal intimidation.
